WORKSHOP 1 – ISTOS PROJECT

The first workshop of the ISTOS project, WS-1 – Stakeholders meeting: Assess current state in Cyprus, took place on September 15, 2021. The workshop was organized online (zoom meeting) between the partners and the stakeholders.

The goal of the workshop was to collect information provided by the participating stakeholders to assess the current state in the area of structural safety of buildings and infrastructure, the disaster risk reduction (e.g. earthquakes, floods, medicanes) and the post disaster management, in Cyprus. Local-Authority and Governmental Officials, Academics and professional bodies were invited to present the current practices of their organizations and engage in discussions regarding their role in the case of an extreme event. The output of the workshop will be utilized during Workshop 2 for the assessment of the Cyprus baseline.

MINUTES OF THE TELECONFERENCE:

Starting the teleconference, the moderator of the Workshop, Dr. Christos Anastasiou (FRC), welcomed the participants and presented the agenda of the workshop and Dr. Petros Christou (FRC), the project coordinator, provided an overview of the ISTOS project. Then the ISTOS' consortium partners from Aristotle University of Thessaloniki (AUTH) Prof. Emeritus Kyriazis Ptilakis, Prof. Giulio Zuccaro from the University of Naples Federico II (UNINA) and Assistant Professor Nickolas Kyriakides from the Cyprus University of Technology (CUT), presented their Universities, their respective teams and their research work. The teleconference continued with the presentations of the stakeholders, Ms. Mikaella Mala (Civil Defense), Dr. Kleanthis Nicolaides (Department of Meteorology), Mr. Kostas Aristeidou (Water Development Department), Dr. Sylvana Pilidou (Geological Survey) and Surgent Costas Stavrou (Fire Service) presenting their organizations and their role in emergency situations. The workshop concluded with general discussion.
